

Please enter your search term

Search: Travel Weekly Travel Industry

News

Sign up to our emails Printer Friendly Email a friend

Former Medhotels boss returns with accommodation-only supplier

(28 September 2006)

FORMER Medhotels founder John Kent is preparing to launch a new Europe-wide accommodation-only supplier.

Youtravel.com is being developed with a US technology firm and aims to pioneer the growth of dynamic packaging on the continent, as well as entering the UK market.

An agent-friendly website will be launched at World Travel Market in November.

Libra sales and marketing director Paul Riches, due to leave the operator next month, scotched speculation he would be working for Kent. An announcement on his new job is imminent.

Medhotels was bought by Lastminute.com in December 2003 and Kent was made managing director of retail in 2004. He left last September and is now based in Athens.

by Lee Hayhurst (About this Author)

Sign up to our emails Printer Friendly Email a friend

Ads by Google

Mark Emanuelson

A global executive leads teams to breakthrough sales and marketing
www.emanuelson.com

Global Water Events

Conferences for senior executives & investors in the Water industry
www.terrapinn.com

Discussion

Please email to report any offensive posts. Any post deemed to contravene the Travel Weekly forum guidelines will be removed.

 Login/Register to add your comments

SUBJECT	AUTHOR	DATE
---------	--------	------

There are currently no comments for this article.

Back to top